

Help us cross the finish line!

We rely on the participation of community leaders like you! We are just $500,000 away from our $3.5 million private sector goal. Every dollar you donate up to $200,000 will be matched by a current partner, DOUBLE DOWN on your investment. You can make a one time or multi-year donation or dedicate a required minimum distribution to this project. As a 501(c)(3), Partners for Parks is a Qualified Charitable Distribution Organization.

"The H-Barn is more than a structure—it's a symbol of Lakewood's heritage. Restoring it is personal for BMW Northwest—a way for our family to give back to the community that has supported our business for more than 50 years." - Manfred and Lori Scharmach

PARTNERS FOR PARKS

H-Barn Project

Let's bring more opportunities to the community!*

Why This Project Matters

Fort Steilacoom Park is Lakewood's community treasure located at 8714 87th Ave SW. While its over 300 acres offer expansive trails, sports fields and open space areas, it lacks a year-round indoor facility. The new Community Service Center will fill this critical gap, serving young and old alike.

- Funding Success: Over the past three years Partners for Parks has raised nearly $3 million towards our private sector goal of $3.5 million.
- Public Commitment: The City of Lakewood has committed $4 million toward the project. Together we can close the funding gap.
- Private Commitment: A recent $200,000 private donation will match all new private donations made by October 31, 2026. DOUBLE DOWN on your investment!

Rich History and Promising Future

Rich History

Fort Steilacoom was once a working farm that supported the staff and patients of Western State Hospital. While the historic H-Barn has stood the test of time, it now requires renovation to realize its full potential as a vibrant multi-use community facility.

Promising Future

More than one million visitors from across the community and region visit Fort Steilacoom Park each year. Once restored, the H-Barn will provide a multi-use space for education, arts, wellness, and celebrations, bringing people together while supporting economic growth in our region.

Partners for Parks is a 501(c)(3)
